Come Well to Wisdom

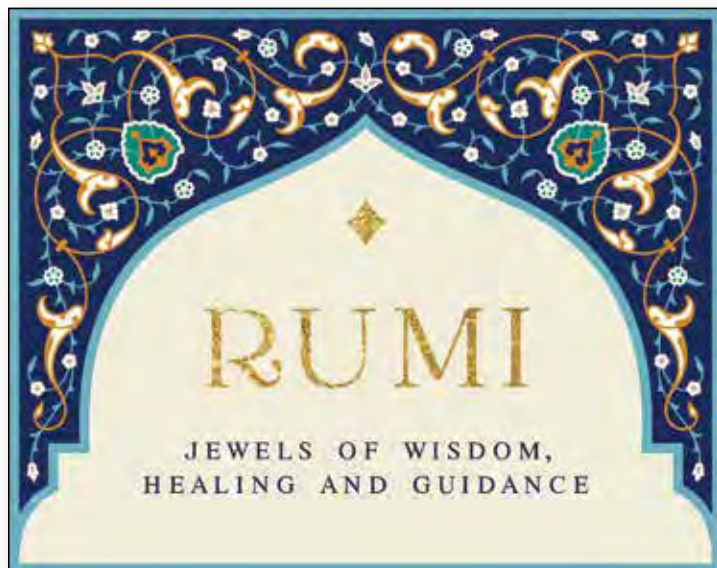

To connect with the leaves of wisdom, be like the leaf.
Close your eyes and imagine yourself floating on a mellow breeze. The gentle wind, the breath of the Divine, carries you aloft and free. Your heart is a feather on the air, your burdens are far below. Embrace the incredible lightness of being and drift into joy. You are ready to begin.

There was never any more inception than there is now,
nor any more youth or age than there is now,
And will never be any more perfection than there is now,
Nor any more heaven or hell than there is now.

Not till the sun excludes you do I exclude you,
Not till the waters refuse to glisten for you and the leaves to rustle for you,
do my words refuse to glisten and rustle for you.

I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journey-work of the stars ...

never to leave you along the way.

I would still fall short of describing your grace.
How can anyone measure with a cup
the sea of enchantment in you?

How glorious is the laughter
in the garden of your delight!
In the place of a feast,
the soul, as your guest,
savors the delight in you!
